

CALL FOR PAPERS

01-04 JULY 2024 | SESSIONS AT THE
INTERNATIONAL MEDIEVAL CONGRESS | LEEDS

MEDIEVAL SERMON STUDIES

After we had an interesting Sermon Studies Session at the IMC 23, we would hope to continue with this effort at the IMC 24, in order to strengthen the presence of sermon scholarship at this important conference. This call invites thus proposals for 20-minute papers (preferably in English) in any subject or period related to sermon material and preaching efforts. Papers may relate (but are not limited to) next year's topic of 'Crisis', for example, as to how sermons were a device for dealing with or explaining crises such as sermon texts devoted to rogation liturgy. But please feel free to submit papers that are not related to the subject of 'Crisis'.

If you are interested in presenting in these sessions, please send a title and c.250 words abstract (in English) to the organizer by 15 Sept. 2023.

And if there are any queries, questions, or suggestions, please feel free to address the organizer.
