

CV Richard Gisser

Education

Studied geography and sociology at the University in 1958-1964

Thesis about migration to Vienna in the Austrian demographic context

Graduated in 1975 as Dr. phil.

Current position

Freelancer in VID's Research Group Demography of Austria

Previous positions

Full-time career in the Population Division of the Austrian Central Statistical Office (now Statistics Austria), starting as a project leader for vital statistics, Director of Division from 1985, retired in 2002

Part-time positions in the VID: head of Research Group Applied Demography from 1977, director in 1987-1989 and in 1993-2001, then deputy director under Wolfgang Lutz in 2002-2017 and at the same time head of Research Group Demography of Austria

Missions

Austrian delegate to the European Population Committee of the Council of Europe in 1977-2005

Awards

Austrian Honour Cross for Science and Arts, 1st class