The Austrian Centre for Digital Humanities and Cultural Heritage (ACDH-CH), a research department of the Austrian Academy of Sciences (OeAW), Austria's leading non-university research institution, is seeking a

FULL-STACK WEB DEVELOPER (F/M/X)
(20-40h per week)

You will join an internationally networked team, pursuing research at the intersection between information and communication technology and humanities studies. Your work will involve processing and publishing of data from various humanities disciplines (esp. literary studies), their research objects (cultural artifacts like books, works of literature or art) as well as information about persons, places, historical events and the manifold relations between these. To get a better impression of the institute's activities, you are invited to look at our public code repositories or some of the prototypical projects: Schnitzler Tagebuch, Auden Musulin Papers or Hanslick Online.

Your tasks:
- User-oriented development of web applications for collaborative authoring, managing and publishing of research data and metadata
- Writing documentation and implementing automated tests for the developed applications

Your profile:
- Experience in designing and implementing web applications, knowledge of web architectures, standards and protocols
- Experience in implementing frontends with Vue.JS and/or React
- Good command of Python as a server-side programming language
- Good command of modern JavaScript development tools
- Team player with independent working style and passion for open source/data

Optional assets:
- Experience in using modern development and deployment tools (Git, Docker, GitHub Actions)
- Experience in implementing applications in Django
- Knowledge of PHP, XML technologies and / or semantic web technologies
- Background in the field of humanities, esp. (computational) literary studies, library and information science or computer science

We offer:
- An inclusive work environment in a diverse team in the heart of Vienna
- An open communication / open-door policy
- Fascinating work with cultural heritage data in collaborative research settings
- An environment that allows to develop your skills and encourages to contribute your ideas and initiatives
- Flexible and family-friendly working hours

The annual gross salary for this position is € 45.835,72 (for full-time employment) in accordance with the collective agreement for employees of the Austrian Academy of Sciences. Based on your experience and academic degree a higher salary is negotiable. The employment will start at the earliest in February 2024 and run initially for 12 months, with the option of conversion to indefinite duration.

Please send your application (including CV, statement of motivation and references of previous projects) by e-mail to acdh-ch-jobs@oeaw.ac.at (mentioning Job ID: ACDH-CH150TEC023).

The Austrian Academy of Sciences (OeAW) pursues a non-discriminatory employment policy and values equal opportunities, as well as diversity. Individuals from underrepresented groups are particularly encouraged to apply.
