

18-19 June 2012

ethnicity & christian discourse

in the Early Middle Ages

The conference will look at early medieval ethnicity in the context of other identities. In the period when Europe was Christianized, kingdoms named after ethnic groups came to dominate much of Europe. The main interest is to explore the impact of Christianity on the ways in which ethnicity became a political issue in the post-Roman world. Contrary to some interpretations based on Roman perceptions, ethnicity is not simply a barbarian form of social integration, which was established on former Roman territory by victorious barbarians. The bulk of our written sources from the period about ethnic and political matters are more or less inspired by Christian discourses and attitudes. How did Christian discourse shape the contemporary significance of ethnic identities? How did the meaning of ethnicity change during the transition from the Roman empire to a multitude of kingdoms in the West? And which role did other identities play in the reshaping of the political and cultural landscape of medieval Europe?

CONFERENCE VENUE

Theatersaal der ÖAW
Sonnenfelsgasse 19
1010 Wien

CONTACT

Univ.-Prof Dr. Walter Pohl
Institut für Mittelalterforschung
Wohllebengasse 12-14
1040 Wien
Tel.: +43-1-51581-7240

Email: walter.pohl@oeaw.ac.at ingrid.hartl@univie.ac.at subject to change

Craffi/Dagmar Giesingl

Monday, 18 June 2012

- 9:00 Welcome Address:
Univ.-Prof. Dr. Sigrid JALKOTZY-DEGER,
Präsidentin der Philosophisch-Historischen Klasse der Österreichischen Akademie der Wissenschaften
- 9:15 -10:30 Walter POHL: Introduction
Herwig WOLFRAM: Barbarian Ethnicity Revisited
- 10:30 -11:00 Coffee break
- 11:00 -12:45 Claudia RAPP: City-Empire-Christendom: Changing Contexts of Power and Identity in Late Antiquity
Mark VESSEY: Post-Roman Scripts and Scriptures in Latin Christian Texts, ca. 400
Yitzhak HEN: Verona, Biblioteca Capitolare LI and the Intellectual Formation of Arian Identity in Ostrogothic Italy
- 12:45 -14:00 Lunch break
- 14:00 -15:15 Roland STEINACHER: Africans, Romans or Barbarians?
The Moors from the 4th to the 7th Centuries
Ian WOOD: Bede's Ethnic Terminology
- 15:15 -15:45 Coffee break
- 15:45 -17:30 Andreas FISCHER: Creating Empathy. Texts, Readers, and Communities in the Early Middle Ages
Helmut REIMITZ: ... sicut ceterae gentes: The Liber Historiae Francorum and the Definition of the Populus in the Merovingian Kingdoms
Rosamond MCKITTERICK: Writing Papal History:
The Universal Church and Roman Identity in the Early Middle Ages
- 17:30 -18:00 Coffee break
- 18:00 -19:15 Mayke DE JONG: Towards a History of Early Medieval Political Thought
Stuart AIRLIE: 'Outstanding People, Immune from Heresy, Loving Justice': Religious-political Faultlines in Christian Communities

Tuesday, 19 June 2012

- 9:15 -10:45 Hildegund MÜLLER: Regional Differentiation in Homiletic Texts of Late Antiquity
Maximilian DIESENBERGER: Sermons in Crisis
Marianne POLLHEIMER: Sermons for an Old King
- 10:45 -11:15 Coffee break
- 11:15 -12:30 Gerda HEYDEMANN: Peoples of God? Divine Election and Ethnic Language in Early Medieval Exegesis
Sumi SHIMAHARA: Ethnicity and Old Testament
Exegesis during the Carolingian Period
- 12:30 -13:30 Lunch break
- 13:30 -14:45 Cinzia GRIFONI: Concepts of Identity and Ethnicity in Grammatical Works of the Early Middle Ages:
Some Examples
Michael MAAS: Human Communities between Heaven and Earth: The Christian Reception of Astral and Environmental Determinism in the Early Middle Ages
- 14:45 -15:15 Coffee break
- 15:15 -17:00 Rob MEENS: Gathering around the Saint:
The Contribution of Sacred Places to the Formation of Identity
Stefan ESDERS: Bannus dei et regis: Excommunication in Carolingian Political and Legal Discourse
Irene VAN RENSWOUDE: Dissent, Dialectic and the Control of Christian Discourse in the Carolingian
Period
- 17:00 -17:30 Coffee break
- 17:30 -18:45 Alexander O'HARA: Drawing the Line. The Development of Ascetic Discourse in Merovingian Gaul
Albrecht DIEM: Inside Perspectives – Outside
Perspectives: Conflict and Identity in Early Medieval Monasticism
- 18:45 Final Remarks

