in the CLARIAH-AT funded project SemanticKraus – Connecting Kraus-Scholarship to the Semantic Web (PI: Bernhard Oberreither), starting November 1st, 2022. The project goal is to create a data set (Linked Open Data / Semantic Web) combining index data from several online editions concerned with the work of Karl Kraus, thus creating an interlinked and interoperable bibliographical and biographical source and at the same time a tool linking present and future online publications on Karl Kraus as well as on neighbouring topics.

Your tasks:

- Data enrichment and data control resp. proofreading of a comprehensive text index

Your profile:

- Ongoing master’s or diploma studies in a literature or media science subject and/or in Digital Humanities
- Experience in working with XML
- Experience in data enrichment and/or data control / proofreading
- Interest, ideally experience in the field of digital humanities research in (Austrian) Literary History, possibly even in periodicals of the first half of the 20th century or Karl Kraus
- Interest in semantic web technologies
- Independence, reliability, and accuracy as well as excellent German skills

Our offer:

- Insight into working with open, sustainable, and interoperable data technology
- Interesting field of activity in a dynamic environment
- Flex time arrangement
- Central downtown location
- Possibility to work independently
