The Institute for Interdisciplinary Mountain Research (IGF) of the Austrian Academy of Sciences (OeAW), Austria’s leading non-university research and science institution, investigates the manifestations and impacts of global change processes (climate change and globalization) in mountain regions across the globe. IGF is pleased to invite applications for a

PROJECT SCIENTIST POSITION (f/m/x)

(part-time, 20h per week)

for the duration of two years, starting at November 06th, 2023.

The position is part of the H2020-MSCA-RISE project HIGHLANDS.3, (“Collective Approach of Research and Innovation for Sustainable Development in Highlands”). The candidate will mainly deal with the coordination and administration of the project.

Your tasks:
- Support in project coordination and administration
- Close cooperation with project manager/project leader
- Maintenance of the project database and online platform
- Organization, coordination and minutes of meetings
- Participation in project trips

Your profile:
- Minimum MSc degree (ongoing or completed doctorate will be considered as an advantage)
- Strong organizational skills
- Very good knowledge of spoken and written German and English
- Experience in project coordination and administration is desirable
- Experience in managing databases
- Willingness to travel
- Team and communication skills
- Soft skills (flexibility, communication skills, creativity, independence, etc.)

Our offer is addressed to persons with strong communication skills and a confident demeanour, who understand how to present complex interrelationships clearly and comprehensibly and who enjoy working on their own responsibility.

For this part-time position, we offer an annual gross salary of € 23,071.23, according to the collective agreement of the Austrian Academy of Sciences.

We would be pleased to have aroused your interest in this position and ask you to send your meaningful, written application together with all relevant documents (letter of motivation, curriculum vitae, certificates) electronically to fernando.ruiz-peyre@oeaw.ac.at and oliver.bender@oeaw.ac.at by September 10th, 2023 at the latest.

The Austrian Academy of Sciences (OeAW) pursues a non-discriminatory employment policy and values equal opportunities, as well as diversity. Individuals from underrepresented groups are particularly encouraged to apply.