

Job ID: IHB068DOC221

The Institute for Habsburg and Balkan Studies (IHB), research unit History of the Habsburg Monarchy, of the Austrian Academy of Sciences (OeAW), Austria's leading non-university research and science institution, is offering a

PHD STUDENT POSITION (F*M)

(part-time, 30h per week)

in the FWF-funded Project "Family Matters. Dynastic Agency in the Correspondence of Empress Eleonora Magdalena of Pfalz-Neuburg (1655-1720)" (P 34651-G). This position is offered for the duration of the project; expected starting date will be October 1, 2021.

Your tasks:

- Archive research on the subject area of the project, primarily on correspondence records in European archives
- Processing and editing of an online edition of letters
- Participation in the administration of the project
- Presentation of results at workshops and conferences
- Publication of results and development of a concept for a dissertation in the subject area of the project

Your profile:

- Completed studies in history
- Experience in archive work, especially with handwritten early modern sources
- Working experience with TRANSKRIBUS, TEI and other editing tools
- Flexibility, communication skills, creativity, team spirit

We offer the opportunity to participate in an internationally networked research project and to develop knowledge in the field of digital data presentation.

We offer an annual gross salary of € 31.326,40 according to the salary scheme of the Austrian Sciences Fund (FWF).

Applications with personal and scientific data should be sent via e-mail in one PDF-file to IHB@oeaw.ac.at (mentioning Job ID: IHB068DOC221) no later than July 30, 2021.

The Austrian Academy of Sciences (OeAW) pursues a non-discriminatory employment policy and values equal opportunities, as well as diversity. The OeAW lays special emphasis on increasing the number of women in senior and in academic positions. Given equal qualifications, preference will be given to female applicants.