The Division Palaeography and Codicology based at the Institute for Medieval Research (IMAFO) of the Austrian Academy of Sciences (ÖeAW), Austria’s leading non-university research and science institution, is offering a

PhD Student Position (F*M)

(part-time / 30h per week)

Duration of employment: 1/4/2020 – 31/12/2022

Tasks:
- Self-contained cataloguing of 15th century manuscripts from the medieval library of the Benedictine monastery of Göttweig (Lower Austria) and occasionally from neighboring monastic libraries
- Data entry into manuscripta.at, the database for Austrian manuscripts hosted at the ÖAW
- Presentation of project proceedings and results at international conferences and scientific events
- Self-contained and competent realization of research tasks

Requirements:
- Master degree in medieval studies, preferably medieval literature and languages
- Profound experience in analyzing and cataloguing medieval manuscripts
- Profound knowledge of Latin and high middle German language
- Excellent skills in palaeography and codicology
- Good knowledge of late medieval intellectual history and monasticism in Austria
- Experienced handling of databases and online research tools for codicology, palaeography and manuscript cataloguing

The position encourages the development of a PhD-project.

We offer an annual gross salary of € 30.878,40 (part-time based, before taxes) according to the salary scheme of the Austrian Science Fund (FWF).

Applications with personal and scientific data and a compact statement about scientific interests and achievements should be sent via e-mail in a single document (PDF) to christine.glassner@oeaw.ac.at (mentioning Job ID: IMAFO026DOC220) no later than March 10, 2020.

The Austrian Academy of Sciences (OeAW) pursues a non-discriminatory employment policy and values equal opportunities, as well as diversity. The OeAW lays special emphasis on increasing the number of women in senior and in academic positions. Given equal qualifications, preference will be given to female applicants.