

IKT - Institute of Culture Studies and Theatre History

The IKT is looking for an intern interested in participating in the project “Young Muslims in Austria. Social Anthropology and Culture Studies at Viennese Schools.”

Video recordings document the project. These recordings will serve the scientific analysis and evaluation of the project. They will enable the pedagogically designed publication on a webpage, while the presentation at the Austrian Museum of Folk Life and Folk Art will reach out to the wider public.

The IKT is looking for an intern who is interested in intercultural and interreligious relationships, optionally in Muslim Studies.

Responsibilities:

- assistance in the stage of elaborating the video material for an exhibition
- transcription of video interviews
- participation in the thematic analysis of transcripts, in allocating interview passages relevant for video editing and possibly in video editing

Requirements:

- ongoing studies ideally of media or film studies, otherwise from the humanities with an interest in cultural studies and social sciences
- a good command of German
- user level command of basic computer software (Microsoft Office) and optionally of video editing software
- knowledge about Islam

The mentors for this internship are the project head Georg TRASKA and Monika MOKRE.

The internship will take place from May 6, to August 2, 2019. The intern is also required to participate in the final event on September 20, 2019.

IIS - Institute of Iranian Studies

The Institute of Iranian studies at the Austrian Academy of Sciences carries out scholarly research on all aspects of Iranian and Persianate cultures and societies in Asia.

The IIS is looking for an intern who is interested in this cultural topic.

The responsibilities of the post may include the transcription of the text contained in a Persian medieval manuscript into digital form (MSWord) and/or the compilation of a list (MSExcel) of bibliographical entries extracted from printed and online catalogues in Persian language.

Therefore, the intern should have very good command of the Persian language, preferably at native-speaker level, at least a literacy equivalent to that of an undergraduate student at university level.

A user-level command of computer software (Word, Excel, etc.) is also required.

The mentor for this internship is Christine NÖLLE-KARIMI.

The internship will take place from May 6, to August 2, 2019. The intern is also required to participate in the final event on September 20, 2019.

ISA - Institute for Social Anthropology

The Institute for Social Anthropology is oriented towards the programmatic theme “Consensus and Conflict in Asia and the Eastern Mediterranean Region”. The research comprises the following regional foci: the Islamic Middle East and North Africa; primarily Buddhist Central Asia (Tibet, Mongolia and the Tibetan speaking Himalaya region); Southeast Asia and the islands of the Indian Ocean.

The ISA is looking for two interns who are interested in the following possible tasks:

- transcriptions of Arabic interviews (Syrian and Iraqi dialect) to English or German
- fieldwork assistance (facilitation of interviews, assistance in translations and transcriptions)
- compiling of media reports/ clipping (preferably the Austrian German speaking media)
- Mapping out thematic clusters in Arab speaking social media based in Austria
- Assistance in ROR-n's event management activities

Requirements:

- a very good command of the Arabic language, preferably at native-speaker level
- good command of German and/or English
- Interest in Social Sciences

The mentors for this internship are Leonardo SCHIOCCET and Sabine BAUER-AMIN.

The internship will take place from May 6, to August 2, 2019. The intern is also required to participate in the final event on September 20, 2019.

PhA - Phonogrammarchiv Audio-visual research and documentation

The Phonogrammarchiv of the Austrian Academy of Sciences is the world's oldest sound archive. Its key tasks are to generate, collect and catalogue audio-visual research recordings from all disciplines and regions, to preserve them in the long term, and to make them permanently available.

The PhA is looking for an intern with an interest in the situation of religious minorities

Responsibilities:

- assistance in field research
- elaboration of narrative interviews with refugees from the Middle East
- translation and summary of interviews
- assistance in archiving

Requirements:

- a very good command of the Arabic language, preferably at native-speaker level
- background in cultural or social sciences

The mentor for this internship is Gebhard FARTACEK.

The internship will take place from September 2, to November 29. The intern is also required to participate in the opening event on May 7, 2019.

ISR - Institute for Urban and Regional Research

The Institute for Urban and Regional Research is the only spatial science oriented non-university research institute in Austria conducting application-orientated basic research at the highest level and not directly involved in planning-related activities. The research focuses on the topics of society, migration and economy.

The ISR is looking for two interns who are interested in ISR survey topics as ethnic economies or housing market integration

Responsibilities:

- autonomous qualitative interviewing on the basis of an interview guide (provided by ISR)
- autonomous contacting of potential respondents
- transcription of interviews from Arabic or Farsi/-Dari/Urdu language into English or German.
- other tasks can be negotiated according to the qualification profile and interests of the intern

Requirements:

- a very good command of Arabic or Farsi/-Dari/Urdu, preferably at native-speaker level
- good command of German and/or English
- socio-scientific basic training (basic experience in interviewing; at least undergraduate or if possible BA)
- sufficient command of WORD

The mentor for this internship is Josef KOHLBACHER.

The internship will take place from May 6, to August 2, 2019. The intern is also required to participate in the final event on September 20, 2019.

VID - Vienna Institute of Demography

The Vienna Institute of Demography strives for the combination of scientific excellence with proactive relevance in analyzing and projecting demographic trends and in evaluating the social and economic consequences of population ageing. It gives special attention to the demography of Austria and to European comparative analysis.

The intern will assist at demographic data collection from National Statistical Office websites, Eurostat or other data repositories and literature review.

Requirements:

- a very good command of the Arabic language or Farsi, preferably at native-speaker level
- a good command of English
- interest in social sciences

The mentor for this internship is Isabella BUBER-ENNSER.

The internship will take place from May 6, to August 2, 2019. The intern is also required to participate in the final event on September 20, 2019.

